

MORNING APPEAL

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 29

PARTY BOSSES.

A good many people are asking who is to be the boss of the new Silver party in Ormsby.

It was the offensive party bossism in the Republican party of Ormsby that killed it as dead as a door nail, and if the successful Silver party of Ormsby is wise it will have as little bossism as possible. The mere a party takes the people into its confidence the better.

The strength of a party comes from the people; the voters, and the people are getting altogether too intelligent to stand any more of the process by which a few men run everything to suit themselves.

The election on the 8th not only broke up the old ring in this county, but it sounded the death knell of bossism as well.

We have had enough of the plan by which half a dozen men in a back room at midnight, meet to say who shall and who shall not run at a primary.

The time is passed when a qualified elector has to go, hat in hand and ask a clique of men whether or not it would be agreeable to them to have him go before the people in the primaries. For years nearly every county officer was obliged to ask permission of the party bosses to run.

If he received their permission, they made him think he was bound body and soul to them and must run his office to suit them. If he attempted to run on his own hook, and succeeded, he was subjected to all sorts of annoyances and made to feel as if he was an interloper.

This state of affairs was the fruit of party bossism and became so obnoxious to the voters of Ormsby that they finally rose up and trampled to pieces in one day, a ring that everybody supposed was invincible. It traded on the fears and credulity of the people. It was like a hollow pumpkin set up in the cross road with a candle inside and holes scooped out for the eyes, nose and mouth, to frighten children in the night.

As soon as its character as a hollow pumpkin is known it only becomes a subject of mirth. Men prominent in the recent people's movement in this county met on Saturday night and the subject was fully discussed.

It was the universal idea that the boss system should be abolished and that any man claiming to boss the party should be sent down on at once. No one man, nor any dozen men can claim the credit of the recent victory. The victory was won by the people square and fair and every man who voted the silver ticket in the last election has as much right to the credit of the successful outcome as any other man who voted right. It was a people's victory entirely. All that is needed now is a good working committee to organize the silver men in Ormsby and keep them organized. It doesn't require a party boss to do this.

MAKE IT UNANIMOUS.

Every person elected to the Senate or Assembly this year was either pledged to, or had declared himself for Mr. Stewart before the election. Of the nine hold-over Senators, four or five have expressed their intention of voting for him. The only reason that the other four or five assign for standing out against him is, that he opposed the election of Harrison. This might have been all well enough before the election, but with the sweeping majority which has been given him, it is void of all force now. Every one of the four or five Senators who are said to be holding out, when elected two years ago, were supposed to be favorable to the election of Mr. Stewart, and as every one of their counties has declared in his favor this year, by voting against him they will be guilty, if not actual betrayers of trust, at least, of acting the expressed wishes of their constituents. The proper thing for them to do is to bow to the will of the majority and give them united support. Senator Stewart is the acknowledged leader in the free coinage movement at Washington, and to be returned by the unanimous vote of the Legislature of his State, would materially increase his influence in Congress, by showing that the people of Nevada, regardless of party, are a unit upon the silver question. It will give the lie to the assertion of some of the third party papers that all Nevadans who voted for Mr. Harrison or Mr. Cleveland are unfavorable to the silver interest, and will set one State right in the eyes of the friends of the white metal in the East. There is in fact every reason why these Senators should cast their votes for Mr. Stewart, and not a valid one against it. Let them make the vote unanimous.—Gazette.
